Ogasawara Trip Day 4 - 2016/03/04

The fourth day of our journey was already the last full day on the islands, and we spend the whole day with whale watching, dolphin swimming, snorkelling and exploring of rare uninhabited islands.

We were able to see many whales from close by, which is a totally different feeling than seeing them in pictures or movies. We also saw some dolphins and got equipped to get into the water with them, but they probably had already enough excited tourists for the day and we just saw them swimming majestically 10 meters below us.

On the evening of this day, we enjoyed a huge BBQ party, organized by friends of our professor. Many of the local people and researches came by, and we all had a great time together!
